

Year 10

Research methods

- Planning psychological research to investigate behaviour and then analysing data to draw conclusions.

Criminal Psychology

- Defining crime and using psychological theory to explain it.

Development

- Understanding how 'thought' and intelligence develops in children.

Psychological problems

- Defining mental health and understanding how disorders such as depression and schizophrenia develop.

